Friday morning - San Diego: Judge to decide fairness of Honda's request to settle Civic Hybrid MPG class actions for $0-$200 plus a coupon, despite $9,867.19 small claims victory of Heather Peters. Peters has reactivated her law license to argue against settlement at hearing and seeks to unseal documents based on new NHTSA inquiries into safety complaints.

(NHTSA's Nathan Ong has interviewed numerous Civic Hybrid owners this week about safety issues raised by unpredictable hybrid power causing inability to accelerate when needed to merge, pass, clear intersections and avoid traffic hazards - (202) 366-1020, nathan.ong.ctr@dot.gov)

What: 1) Court Hearing on fairness of Honda Civic Hybrid class action settlement
2) Media Availability of Heather Peters - winner of $9,867.19 against Honda & lawyer for objectors to class action settlement
3) Photo op of Peters' 2006 Honda Civic Hybrid

Where: 1) Hearing: San Diego Superior Court, Dept.72, 330 W. Broadway, San Diego
2) Media Availability: Before & after hearing in front of Courthouse.
3) Photo op of car: Public lot behind Court on "C" Street between State Street & Union Street

When: 1) Hearing at 10:00 a.m., March 16, 2012
2) Media Availability: 9:15 a.m. & immediately following hearing
3) Photo op of car: from 9:15 a.m. until after media availability
